KENSINGTON PLANS HAPPY CHRISTMAS FOR UNFORTUNATES

Keepers of the "Lighthouse" and Hospital Managers Prepare to Provide Joy for Their Wards.

Kennington is making wholesale preparations for Christmas. The varied ac tivities and organizations which radiate from the "Lighthouse," 152 West Lehigh avenue, have declared against a policy of delay, and already Christmas greens and goodles and toys are being carted in against the coming of the big day.

These are indeed busy times for Mr. These are indeed busy times for Mr. and Mrs. R. Forter Bradford, keepers of the Light. Four hundred children look to the Light house for their Yuletide festivities and they are not to be disappointed. Each youngster under 12 years of age will receive, in addition to a gift, a half-pound box of candy, and on Christmas afternoon an old-fashioned Punch and Judy show will be given.

Nor have the babes who are regular visitors been overlooked. A tree has been provided for them and each and every kiddle will receive a stocking cramful of Christmas wonders.

kiddle will receive a stocking cramful of Christmas wonders.

Around at St. Christopher's Hospital for Children plans are being made to have trees in eight wards, so that no patient will be without his glimpse of Christmas. Every little tacker who is able to hold a pencil in his hand has already advised Santa of his wishes in the matter of gifts.

Miss Anna T. Jeffries, general superintendent of the hospital, is the medium through which these juvenile communications have passed, and she in turn has passed them along to the charitably inclined patrons of the hospital, and it would be a hard-hearted person indeed who could resist the appeals in these missives.

There is little Teddy Roosevelt Wick. for instance, who has tuberculosis of the spine and who believes firmly in Santa ever since the old gentleman permitted him to pull his whiskers last year to make sure that they didn't come off. The whisker episode was in Teddy's estimation the final test. Here is what he Kensington's poor will participate in a Christmas dinner which will be given away in baskets by Mrs. M. W. Ketchum. who has been christened the "Santa Claus Lady of Kensington." Mrs. Ketch-um, who lives at Frankford and Stella avenues, said today she expects to give away about 1200 baskets. The baskets, which will contain cab-

Tickets entitling persons to baskets are being distributed today by exper-ienced investigators who for the last week have been investigating destitute cases in the Kenzington section.

SOCIAL WORKERS FAVOR MUNICIPAL PAWNSHOP

Great Good Accomplished in Other Cities Needed Here.

Philadelphia social workers are greatly interested in the study of municipal loan shops. The report from Kansas City.

Mo., where the city operates a loan shop, tells of the vast amount of good the institution has done the last year.

In the opinion of Roy S. Wallace, head of the Society for the Prevention of Guelty to Children, and president of the Social Workers' Club, the municipal loan shop is worth a trial here as a means of projecting the people from excessive passes shop rates and the preying of loan sharks. "I am greatly in favor of the pawn shop rates and the preying of loan sharks. "I am greatly in favor of the idea." said Mr. Wallace today. "I believe the city of Philadelphia could do a great amount of good by establishing a municipal pawnshop. It would do a great deal in helping the poor and ameliorating conditions, particularly in the present time of unemployment. It is a well-known fact that the poor, who are compelled to pawn whatever goods of value they may possess, often are subjected to great injustice by unscrupulous pawn-brokers. The city should step in and do away with this."

FAIR DRINK MIXERS WILL NOT DISPENSE BELLEVUE 'BRACERS

George C. Boldt to Continue Men as "Cocktail Artists," He Tells Grill - room Patrons.

Patrons of the Bellevue-Stratford grill need have no fear that dainty blue-eyed maidens will be assigned to the artistic task of mixing their favorite cocktails, highballs, rickeys or frappes.

For several days the sole topic in Clover alley, the grill, cafe and dining halls has been a report that George C. Boldt contemplated placing women, appropriately gowned, at the various drinkmixing posts. Mr. Boldt issued passports to all wells are property with the execution mixing posts. Mr. Boldt issued passports to all male employes, with the exception of bartenders, in the grill of the Waldorf in New York recently and it was reported the plan would also be carried out in the Bellevue-Stratford.

Then followed the reports that even the bardtenders in Mr. Boldt's hotel here would be replaced by women. "Horrors!" exclaimed cafe patrons. "A manicurist near the grill may be all right, but a woman bartender? Never!"

As frequent imbibers were mobilizing to protest what they termed a "Bertha the Bartender" plan, Mr. Boldt came over from New York in time to hear such remarks as:

such remarks as:

SHAVE BEFORE A DRINK? "Huh! I suppose we will have to remove our hate when we buy a clgar and ask permission to smoke.
"I suppose we will have to get shaved before breakfast or do without an eye-opener."

"It won't be long before they advertise a manicure with each pitcher of brew." These were only a few and mild ones

The innovation at the Walderf," said

"The innovation at the Walderf," said Mr. Boldt "is only an experiment, although I expect it will be permanent. There were many contributing reasons for the change; reasons which, for the most part, do not hold in Philadelphia. I do not have in mind any change here. "The class of men one gets for cashiers and stand tenders in New York are not particularly desirable. They are almost invariable transients, and stay nowhere a long time. For the same money I can get a womail as a permanent employe, get a woman as a permanent employe

"The men who apply and hold similar pesitions in Philadelphia are a different class of men entirely. For the most part they own their homes, have families, and are thoroughly substantial. are thoroughly substantial.

"Another very important reason for the change in New York is the fact that the class of patrons of the bar is different from that here. Many are extremely un-destrable, and the presence of women in the bar may act as some means of restraint.

PREDICTS BUSINESS REVIVAL.

PREDICTS BUSINESS REVIVAL.

"How is the hotel business at present?"
Mr. Boldt was asked. "Conditions have been indescribably bad." he replied, "but the indications at present are for a resumption of prosperity. The opening of the Stock Exchange is a tremendous factor in reviving business conditions in all lines, but it will take some time for it to have its full effect.

"The hotel business reflects the general tone of commercial conditions better than anything I know. When people are prosperous they patronize hotels. My favorite means of sixing up the situation is found in the porter's room. If I find it full of guitcasses and traveling bags, business is not good. That means that persons are staying only a night or two and plan to get out as soon as possible. No hotel can exist an transients. A few months ago suitcases were the only form of baggage in the porter's room. There are more trunks now."

Boy Scouts Stand For High Code of Honor

With this issue the Evening Ledger inaugurates the Boy Scout Column.

The Evening Ledger takes this step because it believes in the Boy Scout, with his clean, healthy body and his code of honor. The Boy Scout represents the manity and the good element of our young citizenship. He is honorable, loyal and trustworthy; "the honor of a Boy Scout" is rapidly becoming a household phrase. Daily he does his "good turn" unknown, Mnnoticed.

Permanency is stamped on every feature of the organisation which binds the Scouts together; it has become a vital factor in the training of the American boy of today, the American citizen of tomorrow. The movement has grown, is growing and will continue to grow, but it should be fostered and its precepts furthered in every possible way.

Anything that is good should be kept constantly before the public's eye. The Boy Scout movement is distinctly good.

A Badge of Service for every Philadelphia Boy Scout who participated in the recent $50,000 campaign will be ready for presentation this week, it was announced today at Boy Scout headquarters, in Independence Hall. Seven hundred Boy Scouts who collected the money will receive the tokens.

The badge, which was designed at headquarters and which is purely a local insignia, is circular and one inch in diameter. It is of oxidized silver, with a transverse bay of green enamel bearing the words:

Landlords of tenements were notified today by Sheriff A. Lincoln Acker that dispossess proceedings against poor families will not be entertained until after New Year's. Sheriff Acker told owners of houses in the tenement belt that he did not believe in evicting the poor before Christmas.

For years it has been nothing unusual

Kelly, it is alleged, was the author of a reply made to an article appearing in The Plain Dealer, the organ of the Pratt faction. Kelly's alleged libel consisted of broad intimations that Pratt had received $5000 from Chicago street railway interests to use his influence against the law not to evict the poor on Christmas.

Politicians Believe Allegheny County Man Will Succeed Bigelow as Highway Commissioner.

George W. Gitlespie, Road Commis sioner of Allegheny County, is the strongest candidate for the office of State Highway Commissioner under the administration of Governor Brumbaugh, to succeed E. M. Higelow, politicians said today.

Mr. Gilleaple believes, as does the Governor-elect, that toll roads should be abolished in Pennsylvania as soon as pos-sible. He has expressed the opinion that the State should start immediately to the State should start immediately to put dirt roads in repair and keep them in repair, Governor-elect Brumbaugh, in his campaign, frequently urged the improvement of dirt roads as one of the most important features of a comprehensive plan for better roads.

Political leaders emphasized the fact that Mr. Gillespie is a close personal friend of the Governor-elect, who has frequently told his friends that he considers the Pittsburgh man a good engineer and a good executive. The Go-ernor-elect conferred with Mr. Gillsayle several times during the campaign and since the election.

The appointment of Mr. Gillespie is generally considered to depend upon the reappointment of Robert McAfee as Secretary of the Commonwealth. Both of these appointments, it is eaid, will not to to Allesheny. If McAfee is reappointed, which is unlikely, Bigelow's successor will come from the eastern or central section of the State. Mr. Gillespie is virtually stated for the highway commissionership if Governor Brumbaugh turns down the Penrose-Oliver wing of the Republican party and appoints a successor to McAfee, said political lenders today.

Mr. Gillespie has been a member of the

"I believe that we cannot abolish toll roads too soon," said Mr. Gillespie, when he was in Philadelphia. "The people he was in Phindelphia. good condition in a short time.

"The abolition of toll roads and improvement of dirt roads are the principal things that need to be done at once. Every year the State puts off buying the toll roads that now form parts of State highways, they become more valuable, and within a few years it would cost much more than it would cost to purchase them now. They could not all be bought at once, of course, as that would involve too large a sum."
